MLS Data Management Solutions Announces New Features to Website

Arlington, TX (March 8, 2010) – MLS Data Management Solutions, a leader in data driven solutions, announced new enhancements and features to its corporate website at www.mlsc.com. As an important communication tool for customers and the IT community as a whole, the website enhancements will serve as a valuable online resource for online visitors.

Under the new tab, Resources, visitors will find a range of information including a calendar of events that MLS will be attending, company press releases, a RSS feed of industry related articles, and recognitions and certifications achieved. The new features also provide access to the MLS corporate newsletter archive and case studies of solutions performed for clients. Online visitors will also be able to connect with MLS in the social media arena through Twitter and Facebook via the new website.

The improved website reflects upon MLS's mission of being the most valuable marketing partner by providing high quality advice and intelligence solutions to its customers. "The new features on our website strengthens our position as a source of information in the Business Intelligence and Data Management communities," stated Brent Lintz, Director of Information Management. "Filled with constantly updated news and events, our website will be more informative and attractive to our online visitors."
